After leaders Napoli were held to a 2-2 draw at Lazio on Saturday, victory would have left Simone Inzaghi's Inter side first at the end of a matchday for the first time since September.But Francisco Conceicao's 74th-minute finish proved decisive in Turin to leave Inter two points behind 2022-23 champions Napoli.Atalanta are three points further back in third after their goalless draw against Cagliari, while Juventus climbed back into the top four on goal difference from Lazio.While it was only Inter's third defeat of the campaign, it was their second loss in three games - and they have won just once in four.Conceicao settled a close encounter after Randal Kolo Muani turned brilliantly inside the penalty area with quick feet to trick a couple of defenders, before rolling the ball into the path of his team-mate to slam home.That came shortly after Juventus goalkeeper Michele Di Gregorio had pushed Marcus Thuram's first-time shot on to the post to keep the score level.Denzel Dumfries also produced a superb goalline clearance from Teun Koopmeiners' shot to keep Inter in contention, but Inzaghi's title chasers were unable to salvage a point despite their pressure in the closing stages.It was a third consecutive league win for Juventus, who have still only lost once in 25 league games this season.They will now turn their attention to progressing in the Champions League on Wednesday, having won the first leg of their knockout phase play-off against PSV Eindhoven 2-1. Jonathan David recently announced that he would indeed leave Lille as a free agent, although that was Pulcinella's secret, but not his next destination, with Napoli, Juventus, and Inter vying to capture him with a few European sides.The Partenopei recently had an in-person meeting with his entourage but didn't fully come to terms, Il Mattino reports (via MSN). In particular, the parties didn't agree on the commissions. The club believes the demand is too high.Napoli not sealing the deal for David left an opening for Inter and Juventus. According to La Gazzetta dello Sport, the Nerazzurri had new contacts with his representative Nick Mavromaras, but their offer is lower than others on the striker's table. Barcelona, Liverpool, Chelsea, Bayern Munich, and Real Madrid have all shown some level of interest.The Canadian striker is young enough to fit Oaktree's policy about the new signings. However, they too refrain from handing out large sums to agents. Juventus had tested the waters a few months ago and rekindled their pursuit recently, Gianluca Di Marzio informs.Our Take on David, Napoli, Inter, and JuventusHis camp is doing its due diligence, and his requests must be massive if there's no frontrunner yet. Technically speaking, the Bianconeri should be tracking him with the most conviction, as they'll have a gaping hole in his position, while he'd be a straight addition for the other two Serie A powerhouses. They are also the most likely to agree to rich wages and commissions. On the other hand, the timing might be off. They might not make a real move for another elite center-forward while they still have a shot to purchase Victor Osimhen.View publisher imprint Juventus & Premier League Clubs Set To Rival Inter Milan For In-Demand Olympique Marseille WingerInter Milan could face stiff competition from Juventus and several Premier League clubs for sought-after Marseille winger Luis Henrique.According to Tuttosport via FCInterNews, the Turin giants are keen to hijack Inter's pursuit of the Brazilian star.AdvertisementAdvertisementSimone Inzaghi's charges seemed a step away from signing the 23-year-old after agreeing on personal terms with the player.However, they've yet to find common ground with Les Olympiens.Indeed, Marseille's €30 million asking price has been a significant roadblock.The French giants are sticking to their guns, while Inter are unwilling to step beyond the €25m threshold.PORTO ALEGRE, BRAZIL – DECEMBER 6: Luis Henrique of Botafogo looks at the ball during the match between Internacional and Botafogo as part of Brasileirao 2023 at Beira-Rio Stadium on December 6, 2023 in Porto Alegre, Brazil.
